Mann, Failing To Get Action From Committee, Goes to Hoover With Program.

PLANS LILY WHITE GROUP AT HEAD

Hoover Expected To Announce Decision on Southern Plans After Study of Them.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

Washington, March 7.—Following a visit to the white house today by Colonel Horace Mann, manager of the southern campaign, dire rumors and reports of a conflict among members of the republican high command over plans for reorganizing party activities in the southern states.

Colonel Mann, it develops, called at the white house after the executive body of the republican national committee failed to act on a recommendation he is reported to have presented at the meeting yesterday outlining his southern reorganization program. He held a conference with President Hoover for some 30 minutes.

While details of the conference were not disclosed, it was reported that he went over the heads of the republican national committee and laid the whole situation before the new president, asking his approval of the reorganization program.

Personal Matters.

In commenting later, Colonel Mann confined himself to the statement that the general southern situation was discussed. Pressed for details, he said the conference dealt with personal matters which would have to be announced by the white house.

In the face of previous rumors respecting the action of the national organization yesterday, this was taken to mean that he had left with the president a formal outline of the reorganization plans which he has been working on for some time and that Mr. Hoover will be expected to announce some decision after studying them.

The meeting of the executive body of the republican national committee of Wednesday was held behind closed doors and it did not become known until today that Colonel Mann had appeared before the committee to discuss his ideas.

Not being a member of the national committee he is said to have been introduced by Chairman Hubert Work, who explained that the southern leader had a program which he wanted to present. Details of the program are still lacking but it is understood to call for a more elaborate organization structure in each of the several states, based on lily white leadership throughout.

To Take Control.

After the plan was submitted, a resolution is understood to have been offered directing the colonel to assume complete authority in carrying it out and relieving the national committee of all responsibility. The fact that he left in a jovial mood was held to mean that he had no misgivings about the ultimate outcome.

His apparent confidence in the situation may have a connection with the reaction of another recent caller on the president, Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, republican chairman of the special southern patronage investigation committee, who made the statement Mr. Hoover was in sympathy with plans of his committee for reorganizing patronage conditions in the south.

Extremely Cautious.

Officials of the national committee themselves have been extremely cagey about the southern situation all along, apparently being prompted by the thought that it would not be good politics to discuss the case openly. Chairman Work, in an interview with The Constitution representative no later than yesterday, professed to have no knowledge of the matter, but discussed reorganization program.

He expressed a similar reticence in discussing the failure of the committee to act on the Hoover recommendation of a national committeeman from Georgia.

While official information was not forthcoming from any quarter tonight, the consensus is that Colonel Mann will either be given a complete and final voice in the organization program he has in mind or he will sever himself entirely from all future connections with the party's activities in the south. Some definite knowledge of the general layout may be expected perhaps not later than the first of next week.

RADIO EQUIPMENT
FOR CITY, COUNTY
CARS TO BE ASKED

Murphy and Hendrix Indorse Broadcasting Station After Conference With Detroit Official.

Radio-equipped police squads for Atlanta and Fulton county were a step nearer Thursday night with the announcement that city council and the board of county commissioners in the near future would be asked to provide funds for the erection of a police radio station and to equip a fleet of city and county cars with receiving sets.

Announcement that the city and county would take definite steps toward this modernization of the police departments came from Councilman J. Charlie Murphy, chairman of the council police committee, and Chairman Walter C. Hendrix, of the county police committee, who, with Chief of Police James L. Beavers, had held a long conference with Commissioner William P. Rutledge, of the Detroit police department, where the radio-equipped patrols have been in use for several years.

To Ask for Delegation.

Councilman Murphy asserted that at the next meeting of the council he would ask that the city provide funds to send a delegation headed by Chief Beavers to Detroit to study the system in use there before inaugurating it here. The plan, as explained, is to install a centrally located broadcasting station for use of both city and county police, dividing the cost of construction and maintenance. Each department would assist the other in coping with crime, under the plan.

The system, as outlined by Commissioner Rutledge, in a long conference with the Atlanta and Fulton county officials at the Ansley hotel, costs less than $15,000 a year in Detroit, a city of 1,500,000 inhabitants, and could be used here at much less than that figure, it was explained.

Commissioner Rutledge said that the original cost of erecting the broadcasting station was less than $10,000 and that a smaller station could be needed for a city the size of Atlanta.

Approved in Detroit.

In Detroit, the commissioner explained, the department has been a public safety long have realized that the radio is the police department's most effective bit of machinery.

"Radio station strengthens and lengthens the arm of our department," Commissioner Rutledge told Mr. Murphy, Mr. Hendrix and Chief Beavers. "Only a few weeks ago we had a big robbery. The report was flashed to the radio station and broadcast to what we call a 'cruising crew,' an emergency squad cruising about town in a motor car. In seven minutes the members of that crew shot and killed the bandit and were on their way back to the place which had been robbed."

Small Cars No Bar.

The fact that the Atlanta police department is equipped only with small motor cars need not deter the plan from installing the radio system, Mr. Rutledge said, because of this and the belief that the small cars would not serve as well as larger motors, similar to those in Detroit, which have been determined to and by him several months ago he had not pushed it because of the lack of adequate motor facilities. Commissioner Rutledge had informed Chief Beavers that he intended to move through Atlanta on his way to Detroit after a brief vacation in Florida and it was at the earnest request of the chief and Mr. Murphy that he agreed to spend a day here and fully explain the merits of his radio system.

The conference between Commissioner Rutledge, Chief Beavers, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Hendrix took place late Thursday afternoon. Early in the day the Detroit contingent had been taken by Chief Beavers on a tour of the city, which included a visit to Stone Mountain and other points of interest. Mr. Rutledge will leave for Detroit this morning.

Federal Forces Move Northward To Stamp Out Rebellion Along U. S. Frontier.

CENSORSHIP ENDS ON NEWS REPORTS

Washington in Quandary Over Movement of American Artillery to Border; May Order Removal

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Federal successes seemed to predominate in the struggle for control of Mexico yesterday (Thursday), although the confused situation left the details in some doubt. The rebels had been vanquished and scattered in Vera Cruz and federal arms had carried the day in the northeast.

The rebels extended their ground, almost unopposed, down the west coast through the state of Sinaloa and at night the battle of their gunfire in attack on Juarez could be heard across the border at El Paso.

The retaking of the city of Vera Cruz and the flight of General Jesus M. Aguirre removed the nearest threat against Mexico City, although rebel leaders in the north said a campaign against the capital was about to begin from three directions. President Portes Gil and his supporters reiterated their confidence that the future held only victory and additional evidence of their confidence was seen in the lifting of the censorship imposed last Sunday.

Washington appeared to share the belief of Mexico City and apprehension was lessened for American property and lives, except along the northern border. Washington declined to confirm well-founded reports of arms shipments to the federal forces and denied permission had been sought for Mexican troop movements into American soil.

The federal government moved to restore communications in re-conquered territory and to clear the way for American tourists to leave.

CALLES IS READY TO CRUSH SONORA.

Mexico City, March 7.—(AP)—The federal government, victorious over two of the three largest bodies of insurgents tonight, laid plans for a counter offensive against the third and last.

Headquarters have been selected for the campaign against the Sonora rebels who have been advancing southward through Sinaloa. General Lazaro Cardenas has been appointed supreme commander of all federal forces in the states of Jalisco, Guanajuato and Michoacan. These troops were being concentrated at Guadalajara.

As in a game of checkers Secretary Calles has been moving various federal troops about and so adroit and so quick that he has been able to flash to the radio station and broadcast to what we call a 'cruising crew,' an emergency squad cruising about town in a motor car. In seven minutes the members of that crew shot and killed the bandit and were on their way back to the place which had been robbed."

Small Cars No Bar.

The fact that the Atlanta police department is equipped only with small motor cars need not deter the plan from installing the radio system, Mr. Rutledge said, because of this and the belief that the small cars would not serve as well as larger motors, similar to those in Detroit, which have been determined to and by him several months ago he had not pushed it because of the lack of adequate motor facilities. Early in the day the Detroit contingent had been taken by Chief Beavers on a tour of the city, which included a visit to Stone Mountain and other points of interest. Plan Proposed Under Which Charge Will Be Made for Sunday Recreational Facilities.

MAYSON TO DRAFT ORDINANCE TODAY

Special Meeting of Parks Committee Called for This Afternoon To Take Necessary Action.

Legalization of nominal fee charges for Sunday use of recreation privileges in Atlanta's parks and playgrounds will be placed before a special called meeting of city council at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon if plans of Councilman John A. White, chairman of the parks committee, materialize, he announced Thursday night.

Mr. White declared that he would ask this action on advice of City Attorney James L. Mayson, who held that council could legalize the charge and thus end the controversy which started Wednesday when the committee, through Mr. White, ordered all recreational privileges closed on Sundays.

Mayor I. N. Ragdale stated he would call the special session if requested, saying that operation of the parks free of any fee charges would seriously cripple the department, present a financial problem to the city government and cut from $25,000 to $30,000 annually from receipts of the city. The committee voted in a special meeting Thursday to operate 30 days without any charges.

"I will do anything possible to save the city the loss which operation without collection of any fee would entail," Mr. Ragdale said, "so far as I know there has been no demand for free privileges, and it seems to me that we should do all we can to conserve our revenues, especially when we are in serious financial straits and seeking additional funds for operation and maintenance of the parks."

In line with his announcement, Mr. White called a special meeting of the parks committee for 2 o'clock this afternoon to act on a proposed new ordinance intended to legalize the fee.

Whites' Position.

"We wanted to be within the law, and feel that this method will establish our right to collect the fee," Mr. White said. "The ordinance proposed with all the vigor possible, believing that some fee charge is proper and just. Those who use the parks feel that they are entitled to the same degree of maintenance of the equipment they use and no protest against the nominal fees the department has made has been offered. We discovered Wednesday night, by making collections without legal authority and decided that we must do something to correct it. Under the ordinance we intend to charge each member of the committee and employees of the department were liable for violations of the city laws."

The park commission announced Wednesday morning that the parks privileges would be closed on Sundays in the future. Such a storm of protest followed that the commission decided to keep the parks open Sundays free of any charge to the public for the next 30 days.

Mr. White appealed to Mr. Mayson, a second time, and obtained the opinion that council itself could legalize the charges.

Councilman William E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, at the meeting Thursday, protesting against free operation of park facilities on Sundays, basing his objection on the cut in revenue. When he saw he would be overruled, he intimated charges be lifted and the parks privileges be free to the public at all times.

"If you open the concessions free on the Sabbath, you penalize the boy who wants to play golf, tennis and other games on Sunday," he said. "This law is unfair and discriminatory. If we are to remove the charges for any specific day, I believe they should be removed all together."

Councilman White denied that the closing order had been precipitated by a fight between the park department and the concession holders, adding it always had been his intention to remove fees on Sundays.

Concessions Affected.

Mr. Saunders added that the order also affected concessions and specified that the concession holders were to be paid for the concession. He claimed his bid for the concession was in the face of a ruling by City Attorney James L. Mayson that it is illegal, he had nothing to do with it.

Mr. Saunders charged that a concession fight had precipitated the order because of the legal tangle in which the parks are involved. Several days ago the concession holders, including Charles L. Coolidge Turns In First 'Copy' in Series of Stories On His Life in White House

Former President Has Three Magazines on String for Articles; Tells of Death of Son.

New York, March 7.—(AP)—The most important private citizen of the United States appeared before the nation as a writer today, three days after he retired from the white house to No. 21 Massasoit street, Northampton, Mass.

office in Washington. The president handed him a sheaf of papers. "I've got something done," he said. "I don't know how good it is, but anyway it's here."

That "something" was Mr. Coolidge's story of his years in the white house. The outstanding passage in the installment that appears in the Cosmopolitan today is his description of the death of his son, Calvin Jr., and the cost in heartaches of his years in the white house.

"My own participation in the campaign of 1924 was delayed," Mr. Coolidge wrote, "by the death of my son, Calvin, which occurred on the seventh of July. He was a boy of much promise, proficient in his studies, with a scholarly mind, who had just turned 16."

"He had a remarkable insight into things. Started to Work.

"The day I became president he had just started to work in a tobacco field. When one of his fellow laborers said to him: 'If my father was president, I would not work in a tobacco field.' Calvin replied: 'If my father were your father, you would.' After he was gone someone sent a letter he had written about the same time to a young man who had congratulated him on being the first boy in the land. To this he replied that he had done nothing and so did not merit the title, which would go to some boy who had distinguished himself through his own actions."

"We do not know what might have happened to him under other circumstances, but if I had not been president he would not have raised a blister on his toe which resulted in blood poisoning, playing lawn tennis in the south grounds."

"In his suffering he was asking me to make him well. I could not. When he went, the power and glory of the presidency went with him."

"The ways of Providence are often beyond our understanding. It seemed to me that the world had need of the work that it was probable he could do."

"I do not know why such a price was exacted for occupying the white house."

The first article described Mr. Coolidge's entrance into the white house on the death of President Harding and some of his early experiences as president. In the installment appearing after reviewing his years in the white house he tells of his boyhood and young manhood. The work, says Mr. Coolidge, is really an autobiography.

GEORGIA HUNTERS FEWER THIS YEAR, TWITTY REPORTS

Fewer hunters took advantage of the open season for small game which closed March 1 than in many years, with the result that thousands of quail and other species of game were spared, Peter S. Twitty, state game and fish commissioner, said Wednesday.

Records in his office show a considerable drop in the number of hunting licenses issued, and fewer violations of the game regulatory laws.

Game wardens throughout the state report substantial increase in the number of quail, wild turkey, squirrel and deer during the year, he said, with indications that all kinds of game will be plentiful next season.

Women's Democratic League Calls for Raskob's Resignation

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—A resolution demanding the resignation of John J. Raskob as chairman of the democratic national committee was unanimously adopted today by the National Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement league at its second annual convention.

"For the good of the democratic party," read the resolution, "we demand that this Tammany loyalist pay off the debt he incurred in the name of the democratic party and at once resign, and that a competent leader acceptable to the majority of our party be appointed to succeed him."

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, a Chicago lawyer, told the women that the democratic party was desperately in need of help and support at this time.

In spite of the fact that members of our organization voted for Mr. Hoover, the republican candidate, nevertheless we should all be democrats," she said.

Sun of Aerial Barnstormer Has Set, Movie Flier Says

S. J. Sloan, Georgia Boy, Now "Crashes" for the Films

The day of barnstorming with an airplane is over. No longer can the venturesome aviator glide down to a handy field at the edge of town and expect to see the villagers drop their work and come rushing over in excitement and wonder.

The country is too air-minded for the purpose of barnstorming. Sam J. Sloan, former Georgia boy and now of the aerial lanes, it seems to Transport Pilot Sloan, who for many years was a successful barnstormer, wandering all over the nation in his old "Jenny," and finally foreseeing the doom of this wildest branch of the profession. At any rate the opportunity of an airplane ride doesn't seem to thrill enough of the populace any more to make the old racket profitable, according to young Sloan.

Glorious Film.

But the former Georgian dreams of the imminent demise of barnstorming as all the glory of filmhood lies before his eyes.

Sloan has been flying since 1925. He attended no aviation training school, but picked up his skill at the "stick" here, there and elsewhere. In 1926 he purchased an ancient "Jenny" plane and then set out on his barnstorming adventure. The skill acquired in these years, young Sloan, who is only 24 years old, now is turning to special flying for film production. Let the barnstormers stare," he says. "The movie fans get a thrill when I crash into a house or burst up my plane, and sometimes myself, in an airplane."

Subbed for "Wings" Star.

The man who piloted the plane into the side of a house in the famous movie production, "Wings," wasn't the movie star the fans were led to believe. It was none other than Sam J. Sloan, son of R. C. Sloan, of Cartersville, Ga., and grandson of Sam P. Jones, noted aviator of Georgia and the south a few years ago.

And that's where the rub comes in, Sloan says. He does the dirty work and takes the risks, but his name never appears on the film—the star gets all the credit. Sloan doubled for Raymond Navarro in the "Flying Fleet," and for Lon Lyons in "Hell's Angels," new film soon to be released. He also did his aerial tricks in the "Air Circus" and "Conquest," and soon will be back in Hollywood at the same hazardous task.

But his luck soon will change, Sloan thinks. Besides a contract for continued aerial performances in the movies, he has negotiations under way to enter filmhood in his own right, beginning with comedy pictures.

ARTHUR W. ROYSTON IS ADJUDGED SUICIDE

Self-administered coal gas late Wednesday or early Thursday claimed another victim, it was decided Thursday afternoon by a coroner's jury, which returned a verdict of suicide in the death of Arthur W. Royston, whose body was found Thursday morning in the gas-filled kitchen of his home at 1138 Fair street.

Royston's sister, Mrs. W. C. Norrell, with two of the dead man's daughters, early Thursday morning, came to the Royston home to get some clothing for Mrs. Royston and children, who had been staying at the Norrell home since the recent birth of the Roystons' youngest child.

When she opened the kitchen door the gas poured out of the room and after it had sufficiently cleared she entered to find her brother's lifeless form on some bedding close beside the gas stove, the jets of which were open. Doctors were summoned but on arrival declared that the man had been dead for some time. According to police reports the man was clad in his overcoat and his clasped hands doubled-up knees led to the belief that he might have been kneeling in prayer when he lost consciousness.

Surviving Royston, who was a printer with the Southeastern Underwriters, are his widow, four young children, Mary, Sarah, Rebecca and J. Maxwell; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Royston; a brother, Leo Royston, and his sister, Mrs. Norrell. He was 35 years old.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Sam R. Greenberg and company.

EDEL CONVICTED OF KILLING NEW YORK ACTRESS

New York, March 7.—(AP)—Fredrick W. Edel today was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Emilie O. Harbington, actress, in her Washington Heights apartment in December, 1927.

Wrong Impressions.

Sir Austen then referred directly to his interview with the British correspondent, various versions of which have got about Geneva and are beginning to cause considerable comment.

"The question which was put to me the other day," he said, "was whether I expected the Kellogg pact to have immediate and large effect on the progress of disarmament. As to this, it would be dangerous to be too sanguine."

"President Hoover himself in the passage from which I have already quoted observed that peace can be promoted by limitation of armaments and by the creation of instrumentalities for the peaceful settlement of controversies. I agree with this statement. Each new affirmation of the sanctity of peace and of the obligation of each of us to maintain it helps forward the discussion of disarmament as having regard to the difficulties which we have already experienced."

"In spite of the desire for disarmament, which is common to us all, it would, I think, be rash for anyone in the position as responsible as my own to pretend that a single act, however important, had brought us to a solution of all our troubles."

EARTHQUAKE FELT LONGEST PERIOD, RECORD SHOWS

Charlottesville, Va., March 7.—(AP) Arthur J. Wood, seismologist of the University of Virginia, announced here today that an earthquake with the longest period of intensity ever recorded at the university, was noted last night and this morning.

The first tremors were recorded at 8:45 p. m. and at 9:06 p. m. Mr. Wood said there was a period of great severity of more than an hour's duration. The tremors ceased at 12:47 a. m. Mr. Wood said the quake was about 6,400 miles distant, probably in a southeasterly direction.

SCOUT ENTERTAINMENT Troop 2 To Hold Frolic Tonight at Trinity.

Troop No. 2 of the Atlanta Boy Scouts will enjoy a frolic and evening's entertainment tonight in the Sunday school room of the Trinity Methodist church, corner of Trinity and Washington streets. The program will consist of music by the Trinity Epworth League orchestra, community singing, demonstration of sleight-of-hand, by Fred Coolidge, Atlanta magician; an illustrated lecture on birds by Dr. Wallace Rogers, and a demonstration in scout craftsmanship which will include building fire by friction, rendering first aid to the injured and signaling.

WORLD-FAMED ANTIQUE TO BE SOLD BY BRITISH

In Museum Since 1810, 'The Portland Vase' Has Lengthy History.

London, March 7.—(AP)—One of the world's most famous antiques, a Roman glass chalice urn known as "The Portland Vase," which has been on loan from the Portland family in the British museum since 1810, is to be offered for sale.

The vase, which is supposed to date from the first century of the Roman empire, was bought in 1770 by English antiquarians, classicists, art lovers and a considerable section of the general public. Unless it is bought for the nation it will be auctioned in May and undoubtedly will realize a fabulous price.

In the event it reaches the auction rooms it is generally regarded as a certainty that it will be sold to Britain as it was to Italy in the eighteenth century. Such a treasure, it is contended, will command such a fabulous price that no one but an American

ADDED DUTIES WILL BE GIVEN MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—It was said today at the department of justice that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions, will remain at the department in the administration of President Hoover.

Mrs. Willebrandt attracted much attention during the presidential campaign and was subjected to sharp criticism by members of congress because of her campaign activities. While it was generally understood that she would remain as an assistant attorney general no definite announcement has been forthcoming.

Under the proposed plan to transfer the prohibition bureau from the treasury department to the department of justice, Mrs. Willebrandt's duties would be increased. Instead of having only the prosecution of prohibition cases under her direction she would have an active part in directing the work of the bureau.

THIN PEOPLE GAIN WEIGHT

Virogen Supplies Elements Nature Requires For Building Solid Flesh and Strength.

Physicians tell us that a lack of life giving minerals and nutritive salts in modern refined foods result in some form of physical weakness, such as anemia, sallow, pimply complexion, wrinkled, loss of weight, obstinate constipation, soft teeth, poor appetites and premature old age.

A noted New York hospital physician first wrote the Virogen prescription. In hospitals and private practice, before its introduction to the general public, it proved a builder of rich, red blood, firm flesh, bone and muscle.

Wonderful Effects of Virogen. During the first few days of the treatment the appetite and digestion shows improvement; there is an appreciable increase in the general strength and endurance of the nerves and muscular system. The complexion takes on a better color, indicating improved blood. Quickly there develops a feeling of improved general health and strength, which has its influence in steadying the nerves and imparting the power of endurance.

Where impoverished blood has resulted in loss of flesh there is a gradual increase in weight, the result of improved digestion and assimilation.

ROCKEFELLER DEPOSES COL. ROBERT STEWART

Stewart was 5,510,290 shares of stock; the Stewart stake 2,954,986.

The new board, placed in nomination by Aldrich and elected, for the first time, placed in nomination William M. Burton, Edward J. Seibert, Edward J. Bullock, Melvin A. Traylor, Allan Jackson, Amos Ball, R. E. Hunsinger, R. H. McElroy, Charles J. Barkdull, Dr. Gentry Cash and Thomas Cooke.

The new "Rockefeller board" convened immediately after the shareholders' session. Seibert was elected president, but no one was named to succeed Stewart as chairman of the board.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Allan Jackson; R. H. McElroy, E. J. Bullock and R. E. Hunsinger; general manager, in charge of manufacturing, R. H. McElroy; general counsel, L. L. Stephens; treasurer, C. J. Barkdull; assistant treasurer, Felix T. Graham and Ralph E. Clarke; secretary, F. C. Graham; assistant secretaries, C. J. Barkdull and Ralph E. Clarke.

Stewart was defeated for reelection to the board. His selection as general counsel had been made. Seibert, elected to the presidency, gave out a statement saying he had given his undivided support throughout the proxy battle to his old friend, Colonel Stewart.

"In doing so," he said, "I did not deviate in any degree from my lifelong loyalty to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, for which my father worked and for which I have worked every day since I was a boy."

Aldrich, who had directed the fight for Rockefeller, arose when the announcement of his victory was made and thanked Stewart for his "fairness" in conducting today's meeting.

The peaceful spirit which prevailed, due entirely to the genial direction of Stewart, furnished the big surprise of the meeting which had been expected to develop into a bitter and heated contest between the two opposing groups during the period when the two old leaders were facing each other.

Rockefeller has waged a fight dating back more than a year against Stewart. He had first asked that Stewart resign because of his connection with the mysterious Continental Trading Company, which had been investigated in the United States Senate.

Refused Support.

At the last annual meeting of the stockholders, Rockefeller refused to support Stewart for reelection, but did not throw his influence or power against him as he did in the past few months.

During this time a bitter campaign for proxy votes was waged. Rockefeller, vacationing in Egypt, directed his fight through Aldrich. John D. Sr., remained at his Florida estate, and aside from one statement explaining that he upheld the position of his son, took no direct part in it.

But it was Stewart today who appeared to have won and to the bitterness. He was defeated when he left Chicago for the meeting here today. He joked with newspapermen and on the surface one would doubt whether he was disappointed or optimistic of an overwhelming victory was warranted.

Alighting from one of four limousines that had driven the chairman and his board to this little "tank town," he stepped into the administration building where the formality of adjourning to the Whiting Community center was held.

He introduced the various members of the board to the "audience" of adjourning to the Whiting Community center was held.

ATLANTA GIRL HERE WITH GOULD BALLET

Miss Gladys Hill Started Career With Light Opera Company.

Trained as a stenographer, Miss Gladys Hill, an Atlanta girl, the daughter of Mrs. A. W. Hill, of 67

Waddell street, forsook the rattle of the glass-covered keys for the more glamorous profession of the stage. She is seen at the Howard theater this week in the Dave Gould ballet, one of the features of the bandshow "Pleasure Pirates."

A native Atlantian, Miss Hill, received training in stenography at Commercial High school, of which she is a graduate. Following her graduation, she joined the ballet of the municipal light opera company. She studied at local dancing schools during her high-school course.

With the valuable experience gained in the light opera company, Miss Hill went to New York where she appeared in the Ed Wynn show, "Grab Bag," throughout the Broadway run of that musical comedy.

After the "Grab Bag" engagement, she went with Public Theater in the New York produced units, which connection she has maintained for the past two years. She was in Atlanta last May with another of the Public units, and her return is the occasion of much interest to her many friends and schoolgirl companions here.

Rushing Injured Girl To Hospital, Man's Auto Is Struck by Truck

Helping a lady in distress proved costly Thursday night for W. D. Rosebrough, of a local hotel.

While rushing Miss Nell White, of an Eighth street address, to Grady hospital after she had slipped on a sidewalk and injured her left leg and arm, the machine Rosebrough was driving was struck at Decatur street and Fremont avenue by a truck driven by Fred Reynolds, negro, of 481 West Hunter street.

No injuries were sustained in the crash, but cases of reckless driving were docketed against both drivers by Patrolman J. R. Hood.

It is not willing to put up with men like Stewart. I consider the defeat of Stewart a vindication of the senate committee and of good government.

The result of the company's stockholders vote was characterized as "most pleasing" by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, chairman of the senate public lands committee which questioned Stewart in connection with the Continental Trading Company's oil profits in the Teapot Dome lease. The refusal to answer these questions led to Stewart's trial.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the senate lands committee, preferred to make no comment on the ousting of Stewart.

CHILD'S TO BE RUN BY NINE MILLIONAIRES.

New York, March 7.—(AP)—Nine millionaires were elected today to direct the destinies of the Childs' restaurants, six members of the Childs family being removed to make way for them.

At the company's annual meeting a long-drawn battle over menu and management policies reached its climax in a skirmish of proxies that resulted in severing all connection between the 115 restaurants of the Childs system and the persons whose name that system bears.

There was one chance that today's actions might be nullified but even William Childs himself, co-founder and chairman of the company, placed little hope in it.

The faction opposed to the Childs family, headed by William A. Barber, filed proxies which they said accounted for 200,000 shares of the company's 411,000 shares of voting stock, and for the purposes of the meeting the Childs faction conceded them a majority, subject to challenge when the official count should be completed. If the Barber proxies could be cut down to 205,000, or less than a majority, then no quorum would have been established and all today's actions would be void. But only the younger members of the Childs faction expressed even slight confidence of reinstatement by such plans.

Childs Deposed.

The directors deposed today were William Childs, his wife, his two brothers and his two nephews. The new board elected consists of Barber, E. H. Meadows, Jr., of the New York banking house of Laird Bissell & Meeds; Clement R. Ford, of the Boston and New York banking house of Tucker Anthony & Company; Leroy W. Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust Company; S. Willard Smith, a former Childs president recently deposed by William Childs; Augustus Nulle, managing director of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel; Ramon O. Williams, Richard M. Allerton and Cecil F. Gordon.

A spokesman for the Barber group said that each of these men owned approximately 20,000 shares of Childs stock, the same amount formerly owned by William Childs and which he sold for more than $1,000,000 last year to the stock pool which was influential in his deposition today and which is represented by at least four men on the new directorate.

It was announced that Smith would resume the presidency in the place of Luther Childs and it was intimated that the post of chairman, created for William Childs last year, would be abolished.

CANDLER FIELD

For Chicago	On Time	9:25 a. m.
For New Orleans	On Time	11:00 a. m.
For Miami	On Time	11:30 a. m.

*Mail was unusually heavy on the southbound New York-Atlanta route Thursday morning and two planes were required to carry the big cargo. The second "section" arrived at Candler field at 11:55 a. m.

While the heavens were blue Thursday the sun shone brightly, a still glare throughout the day made flying unpleasant, if not downright hazardous. Air mail planes, on the average, maintained their schedules in good shape, but little flying-for-pleasure was done. Only two visiting planes swooped down on Candler field during the day. One of these was a Curtiss Robin, used by the Standard Oil company to carry officials and inspectors around the southern territory, and the other a Wright-powered Travel Air of the department of commerce, used by Inspector L. C. Wilson, of the aviation division, whose headquarters are at Candler field.

Furman A. Stone, Pitcairn air mail pilot on the Atlanta-Jacksonville route is up and about again after having spent several months in a hospital, recovering from a dislocated hip he suffered in a crash at Waycross, Ga., in his home in Birmingham, Ala., and while still hobbling about on a cane, he expects to return to Candler field in a few days to "test his wings" around the airport before returning to his regular run.

Harry H. Culver, of Culver City, Calif., president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and an aviation enthusiast, is expected to arrive at Candler field this morning from Macon, with his pilot and constant companion, Lieutenant James B. Dickson, at the controls of his Ryan biplane. Mr. Culver has used the big plane in a tour of the principal cities, Atlanta having been included in his itinerary.

What is believed to be a new record for the flight from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta was established Thursday when Pilot George Shesley and H. L. Pritchard, in the latter's racing Travel Air—a special whirlwind job—made the hop in four hours and 25 minutes, actual flying time. With a tail wind helping it out all the way, the fast little ship hesitated at Greensboro, N. C., only long enough to refuel and then "it out" for home, cutting almost an hour from the best record ever made before, according to pilots at Candler field.

Eddie Stinson, president, and Randolph G. Page, chief test pilot, of the Stinson Aircraft corporation, recently completed test flights on the "Sally Sovereign," in which they hope to recapture the world's non-stopping endurance record over Saginaw bay.

In appearance the "Sally Sovereign" resembles the stock model Stinson-Detroiter. However, it is considerably larger in wing span and length, and has retractable landing gear, which folds into its wing. Stinson engineers also have installed an N. A. C. engine cowling over the 300-horsepower Wright "Whirlwind" engine.

The all-metal dirigible, now being constructed by the Aircraft Development corporation, of Detroit, for the United States navy, will be submitted to its initial trial flight on April 15. Edward J. Hill, general manager in charge of construction, announced recently. The contract for the experimental plane was entered into in August, 1928, after congress had appropriated $5,000,000 to provide for the purchase. The dirigible must be subjected to the harshest tests in the air before being delivered to the navy. Upon acceptance by the navy department it will be flown to Lakehurst, N. J.

ELECTION CHANGES RECEIVE APPROVAL OF CHARTER BODY

Two major revisions in methods of choosing Atlanta's city officials, proposed Thursday when two resolutions were approved by the charter revision committee of city council.

Election by plurality rather than by majority in races where more than two candidates are involved would be legalized under a resolution passed at the request of the city democratic executive committee. Elimination of expense in holding runoff primaries was the reason cited by officials in asking the charter revision committee to seek authority for election of candidates receiving the highest number of votes in their respective races.

Election of department heads by city council is contemplated in a second change of election laws approved, subject to a city-wide referendum.

An ordinance which would require licensing of all drivers of motor vehicles was advanced by the committee on the ground that it should be a state rather than a city law. Alderman C. Everett McKeen introduced the ordinance.

The two election ordinances will require action by council and the legislature before going to the people for ratification.

Carnes Properties, Valued At $200,000, Transferred To Baptist Mission Board

Judge J. D. Hutcheson, at Decatur, Enters Final Court Order Against Convicted Embezzler.

Decatur, Ga., March 7.—(AP)—Properties valued at approximately $200,000 were formally transferred to the Southern Baptist Home Mission board today when Superior Judge John D. Hutcheson entered final court order giving to the board title to the estate of Clinton S. Carnes, convicted former treasurer of the board.

Carnes, who is serving a five to seven year penitentiary sentence on a plea of guilty to embezzlement of the board's funds, conveyed all his property to the board as restitution and today's court order completed the transfer.

Besides the properties it received today, the board also collected $50,000 from a surety company which bonded the treasurer in that amount. A court judgment for another $54,000 also has been granted against Carnes and would be effective against him to acquire any other property he may later possess.

Property turned over to the board today under the court order included five insurance policies on the life of Carnes and his two sons, Samuel and Robert Carnes; all the stock of the Phoenix Realty company, one of Carnes' real estate companies, except ten shares owned by Thomas H. Scott; a note for $50,000 secured by 498 shares of stock in a land company with holdings at Sanford, Fla.; parcels of land in Dooly and Clayton counties and the residence of Carnes in Atlanta.

Signing of the order by Judge Hutcheson terminates involved civil litigation incident to the embezzlement of home board funds.

Highway Attorney Junior League To Present 'The Wizard of Oz' Today

Seward Smith, Atlanta Lawyer, Charged With Misusing State Funds.

Homerville, Ga., March 7.—(AP)—Under indictment by the Clinch county grand jury on charges of illegally assessing and accepting fees, Seward Smith, attorney for the state highway department, today said that "no wrong" had been done, and that everything would be all right.

Smith was indicted yesterday as the aftermath of a litigation over paving. It was alleged that Smith placed a charge against Clinch county work in the paving case, and that W. W. Musgrove, prominent Homerville resident, appeared before the county commissioners and obtained a $1,500 order for the attorney. Musgrove also was indicted.

"It is all local politics; no wrong has been done, and everything will be all right," was Smith's statement today.

INDICTED PAIR ARE NOT UNDER BOND

Seward Smith, attorney for the state highway department, and W. W. Musgrove, prominent Homerville business man, and Screven Sweet, member of the Clinch county board of commissioners, who were indicted yesterday by the Clinch county grand jury, as an outgrowth of charges that they conspired to illegally appropriate county funds in connection with highway legal actions, today had been served by the sheriff's office with papers naming them in the true bills, Mr. Musgrove told The Constitution Thursday via long distance telephone.

The three men named in the true bills were not placed under bond. Mr. Musgrove said, Mr. Smith was in Homerville today in connection with the indictments, it was said.

The charges that resulted in a conspiracy legal action, today had been served by the sheriff's office with papers naming them in the true bills, Mr. Musgrove told The Constitution Thursday via long distance telephone.

The three men named in the true bills were not placed under bond. Mr. Musgrove said, Mr. Smith was in Homerville today in connection with the indictments, it was said.

Charges were made that the indictments were a result of ill-feeling and were a political maneuver only. The fact that the indicted men were not placed under bond, but merely served with notice that they were named in the true bills was cited as proof that the action was only political.

Mr. Sweet said that the check had been given to the county's portion of attorney's fees for the appeal from a decision of the Jefferson county superior court in the extra highway mileage program. Eight hundred miles had been placed on the map, he said, to some 16 counties, as those counties allotment of highways under the gasoline tax measure. His county's share, he stated, was 46 miles.

When the Jefferson superior court ruled that the extra mileage could not be allotted by the highway board, the case was appealed to the state supreme court, which court affirmed the Jefferson ruling.

John Holder, chairman of the state highway department, said that Pierce and Pierce, of Augusta, and Wright Abbott, of Louisville, Ga., and Mr. Smith had conducted the appeal for the highway department. Counties interested in the extra mileage, he said, that wanted to could join the board in fighting the appeal. They could use their discretion in assisting, he said, and those that wanted to join were welcome to do so.

Constitution Editorial On Sunday Park Closing Indorsed by Dr. Dodge

Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the central Congregational church, commended an editorial in The Constitution on the question of Sunday closing of the parks.

Dr. Dodge said in conclusion: "Of course the action of the parks committee will be revoked, but for the sake of the intelligent name of our city, one hates to see such medieval darkness cast into its light for even a short time by such unwholesome publicity as is afforded by an act of this kind."

Prosecutor in Robbery Case Put Under Arrest On Prohibition Charge

From prosecuting witness in a robbery case to defendant under a federal charge was the experience of Leslie Redmond Thursday in Judge E. E. Pomeroy's division of Fulton superior court.

Redmond stepped out of the courtroom after testifying against a New York man who he charged with robbing him of $100 on December 17, to be arrested by United States Deputy Marshal W. F. Haney on a prohibition charge.

The jury found York guilty on the robbery charge, and he was sentenced by Judge Pomeroy to serve from two to 10 years.

Federal officers said that Redmond is charged with operating a "hard core" still in a house on Morris avenue.

82 Milledgeville Business Men Seek Lower Power Rates

Milledgeville, Ga., March 7.—(Special).—Eighty-two Milledgeville business houses Wednesday petitioned the Georgia public service commission to reduce the electric light and power charges made to Milledgeville stores and business enterprises by the Georgia Power company.

The petition recites that the rates charged in Milledgeville are higher than in other towns in this section and asks that the rates be made uniform. "Protest was particularly made over the rates charged for fan motors and show window lights."

The petition asks the commission for a hearing and that Milledgeville complainants be allowed to be heard from. Large numbers of local merchants state they expect to attend the hearings when set. There has been much dissatisfaction evidenced by prominent merchants and citizens over the power and light rates here for several months and a concerted effort is being made to secure reductions.

GORDON PAPER PLANTS TO BE SOLD TODAY

Macon, Ga., March 7.—(AP)—The closed Pyrene Paper company plants will be sold at Gordon, Ga., next Tuesday, under a decision of Judge J. N. Talley, referee in bankruptcy. Formerly one of the largest paper mills in the south, the Pyrene plants were closed in 1926 with indebtedness of $1,500,000. Property appraisal has been placed at $200,000. A million dollars of the indebtedness was declared to have been with Thompson, Norris company of New York, while part was a loan with the Fourth National bank of Macon.

The plants at the time of closing were important factors in the business life of the people of Gordon and Wilkeson counties.

10 PER CENT LOSS TO CROPS CAUSED BY GEORGIA FLOOD

Floods in south Georgia have damaged crops of that section at least 10 per cent according to an estimate made Thursday by Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture. The commissioner said he has not received detailed reports of this damage.

"It will be at least a month before some of the land located in overflowed sections can be cultivated," the commissioner said. "The delay will throw the cotton crop of this rich land area too late for practical cultivation and it is probable that most of the flood soaked land will be unfit for use this year."

The commissioner pointed out that a federal fund amounting to $8,000,000 for relief for farmers suffering from floods last year soon will be available. It will be loaned by the government to farmers and details of the plan can be obtained from state farm demonstration agents.

Others in the race are Ed Iman, Collis Whitaker, Byron Betts, Dr. A. H. Cochran, Andy King, Vester Ownby, William E. Dunn, Jr., W. C. Tumlin.

LINDY TAKES SLING OFF HIS RIGHT ARM

Colonel Will Now Be Able To Use Both Hands in Driving.

Mexico City, March 7.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had the use of his right arm today for the first time since the accident a week ago at Valbuena field when his plane capsized on landing from a picnic trip with his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow.

His physician allowed him to remove the sling which had held his arm in place until the effects of a dislocated shoulder could be overcome. Meanwhile popular interest in revolutionary activities has drawn attention away from the colonel and his romance. Both Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Morrow are enjoying their unaccustomed freedom from publicity.

An authoritative source denied reports that the Lindbergh-Morrow wedding had been transmitted to the United States by secret code. No wedding invitation, it was stated, had been sent and a date for the wedding had not been fixed.

The prevailing opinion is still that the wedding will take place here.

RIGHT TO CLOSE STREETS LIMITED, COURT DECLARES

When a municipality, in making street improvements, is "negligent in impeding access" to business property it is liable for damages to the property owner according to a ruling made by the court of appeals Thursday in a damage suit brought against the city of Atlanta by J. Clarence Hines, a property owner. The decision upheld a decision of the Fulton superior court in overruling a demurrer entered by the city.

Hines claimed damages of $6,525 to his property here, occasioned by the closing of his street for improvements. His petition said he lost tenants and rents by reason of the city's making his property inaccessible for a longer time than necessary. The city's demurrer set out that a municipality could close any thoroughfare without liability to owners of property on streets closed. The court held that where reopening such streets are delayed beyond a reasonable time, property owners would have the right of recovery for any damage that resulted.

although forecasts of any kind are admittedly guess work. The situation arising from the revolutionary activities has made it improbable that the marriage can take place very soon. The disruption of train service would interfere with the arrival of guests from the United States.

VEGETABLE SHORTENING ORDER IS RESTRAINED

Eugene Talmadge Says Petition Will Be Fought in Highest Courts.

Attorneys representing several manufacturers of vegetable shortening have obtained a temporary injunction in the federal court at Augusta restraining Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, from putting into effect his recent order banning the sale of such shortenings in this state. It was announced by Mr. Talmadge Thursday. Notice of the injunction was served on the commissioner by long distance telephone.

Commissioner Talmadge was ordered to appear before Judge Barrett March 16 and show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

The state will fight these proceedings to the highest court, according to Commissioner Talmadge. "We are certain that the present method of selling the vegetable shortening in Georgia is a violation of the law covering misbranding," he said. "The product is cut the size of butter, is packed in cartons similar to those used in selling butter and is colored like butter and we object to this method of disposing of it in this state."

Commissioner Talmadge said he had received information from grocers in several towns that they had received large orders for these shortenings from colleges and state institutions. He said the product is sold in large quantities throughout the state and is invariably used as a substitute for butter.

"It is not fair to the dairy industry of Georgia to permit the sale of this shortening product in the packages now used," Mr. Talmadge said. "We particularly object to the coloring matter placed in it."

Samples of the product have been collected by Mr. Talmadge. The order issued recently by the commissioner banning the sale of the products was effective March 1. The manufacturers were represented by Wright and Davis, of Atlanta, and George N. Murdock, of Chicago.

Catarrh Is Serious

Handicap on Victim

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

ROAD FLOOD DAMAGE PLACED AT $500,000

Damage amounting to approximately $500,000 and possibly more has been inflicted on Georgia highways by unprecedented floods in several parts of the state, according to information obtained Thursday from the state highway department.

In the flooded areas in the valleys of the Flint, Alabama, Ocmulgee, Ogeechee and Oconee rivers some of the roads were submerged by water Thursday, according to reports received by the department.

Repair crews are busy in nearly all the state highway districts and soon will have all roads open for traffic, according to reports of district engineers.

The washout at Echocree creek near Macon has not been repaired but a detour in fair condition has been built at this point, it was reported. Other roads closed because of high waters were the roads between Greensboro and Madison, between Americus and Vienna and between Abbeville and Mount Vernon.

Marion Talley Almost Lends John D. a Dime

Ormond Beach, Fla., March 7.—(AP) Marion Talley, Metropolitan soprano, attained a seldom achieved distinction this morning. She almost loaned a dime to John D. Rockefeller, Sr., one of the world's richest men.

It happened at the golf course where Miss Talley went to greet the aged magnate. A photographer thought it would make a good picture if he could snap Mr. Rockefeller in the act of giving a dime to the soprano.

They were all posed and the photographer asked "Would you give Miss Talley a Dime?"

A look of dismay shadowed the face of the magnate as he admitted, "I haven't any more."

Miss Talley was about to offer him one of the dimes he sent to her last night following her concert which he heard at Daytona Beach when suddenly the Rockefeller countenance grew rosier. Grizzled hands drew forth from the deepest recesses of Mr. Rockefeller's short coat and they held dimes—overlooked in the first flurry of search.

Mr. Rockefeller then looked about for Mrs. Talley. "Can't we have the mother in?" he asked. Mrs. Talley stepped over and Mr. Rockefeller took her arm and nodded to the cameraman. He presented a dime to Miss Talley and one to her mother.

"You sent me one last night," Miss Talley remonstrated, but Mr. Rockefeller went ahead unheeding while the cameras ground away.

Before beginning his morning game, the oil magnate had a nice chat with the Talleys. His first words on seeing the girl whose voice brought her into sudden prominence, was "very pleased. I heard you last night. It was lovely, lovely, but don't do too much. Don't do too much. Because you are not an old girl yet, you know. We want you for a long time."

WIFE MURDERER "NOT PARTICULAR" ABOUT LIVING

Memphis, Tenn., March 7.—(AP) On trial for the murder of his wife, whom he killed with a poker and then placed her body in a trunk, Charles S. Taylor told a criminal court jury today that he was "not particular" about living. The state is seeking a death verdict.

It had been brought out in testimony that Taylor, 34, a barber, had contemplated suicide when he fled Memphis the day after killing Mrs. Irene Martha Taylor, 42, December 3. Her body was found eight days later and Taylor was arrested in Shreveport, La., December 14.

"But you want to live now?" the prosecutor asked.

"Well, I'm not particular," was the reply.

Mrs. Taylor "nagged" him continually, Taylor testified, and on the morning of the slaying he said a remark she made about his daughter by a previous marriage made him "see red" and he struck her with a poker. Then after finding she was dead he placed her body in a trunk in the rear of his combination home and barber shop in Buntyn, a suburb.

Shortly afterward a customer entered the barber shop and Taylor shaved him.

As Taylor told of striking his wife with a poker, her sister, Mrs. Richard Stubbs, became hysterical and was led from the courtroom.

Three witnesses corroborated Taylor's testimony about his wife's "nagging."

ROAD REORGANIZATION BILL TO BE SUBMITTED

Creation of Debenture System Included in Wesley Walker's Plan.

Reorganization of the state highway department and the creation of a debenture system anticipating gasoline tax revenue that will total $75,000,000 to be used for road construction, will be provided in a bill to be introduced in the legislature at its session this summer by Wesley R. Walker, representative from Ben Hill county, he announced Thursday.

Under the proposed bill, a state highway board consisting of nine members, one from each of the present road districts of the highway department, would be created. This board would have full charge of carrying out the state road building program just as the state board of education directs the affairs of the school department.

The bill provides that the legislature shall have authority to fix a tax on gasoline and gasoline substitutes, oils and other motor fuels which shall be no higher than the present rate of taxation. This money would be known as the state road tax fund and would be used for no other purpose than for building and maintaining a state road system.

Representative Walker's bill will provide that the governor, the secretary of state and the treasurer shall have full authority to issue debentures or certificates of debt against the state road tax fund aggregating $75,000,000 at a rate of not more than 5 per cent and to run not longer than 20 years.

The bill provides that this money shall be credited to the state highway department as reorganized. It provides that there shall be no matching of state funds by counties and also provides that counties that have matched state funds shall be paid back such money under a plan to be adopted by the highway board.

The bill is a constitutional amendment and will be submitted by Representative Walker at the next session of the general assembly.

SCHOOL FINANCE BODY WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

Session Will Not Be Held Today, Chairman J. Charlie Murphy Announces.

Meeting of the composite committee which will consider the financial problem facing the city in operation and maintenance of the Atlanta public schools system will be held the first part of next week and not today, as at first announced, it was stated Thursday by Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, chairman.

When the group meets it will consider at least four proposals which a subcommittee, headed by Councilman Nelson Spratt, will offer.

Included in the plans which will be up for discussion will be one providing for a tax increase of 23 per cent, thus raising the rate from $1.50 a $100 to $2 to be equally divided, with the schools getting $1 and all other departments the other $1 and providing for complete divorce of the proposed new board of education from setting of from five to seven members, raising the city taxes to $1.90 or $2 and giving the schools a minimum of 35 per cent instead of 26 per cent as at present and divorcing the school department from all other departments; placing the schools again under the jurisdiction of city council under the present arrangement, and fourth, a general increase in taxes, not specified, with the schools getting the same minimum of 26 per cent as at present.

Following a marvelous escape at this point, he and his party were later captured by the Turks and held prisoners for six months. This time the Russians saved the day and he made his way back to America, where he has remained since.

Harold Branch, Jr., of Atlanta, and Ed Enzor, of Montgomery, Ala., will represent Emory on the affirmative side of the question.

The Florida debaters are two of the most prominent members on the student body and they are making a southern tour, covering approximately 100 colleges. They are using the same question for the entire tour and will meet Georgia Tech Saturday night.

Emory's debate schedule for the remainder of the season is very full and is being announced from time to time by Professor Nolan A. Goodyear, chairman of the debate council.

These Atlanta natives, Smith, James Jacobs and Glenn Rainey, will debate William and Mary college at Emory on March 25. These three men were student debaters at Boys' High school together and one time were on the same team together.

Next to the longest tour of the debate season will be made by Glenn Elliott, of Norcross, and Frank Settle, Roanoke, Va., into the Carolinas, leaving on March 25. These debaters will include Duke university, University of North Carolina, Wake Forest college, North Carolina State university and University of South Carolina.

On March 29 another home debate will be held, when William Woodruff, of Decatur, and Henry Sherman, of Blakely, meet Tulane university in the Emory auditorium. Several of the largest debates will be held in April and will be announced later, including meetings with Harvard, Princeton and Northwestern university.

ALLEGED VICTIM OF TRUCK CRASH SUES FOR $10,000

A. Glazer, through his father, M. Glazer, Thursday filed suit in the city court of Atlanta for $10,000 damages, naming J. Clyde Aycock and Carl J. Aycock, trading as Aycock Brothers, coal dealers, as defendants. The plaintiff alleges that he was injured on February 23 when his automobile was struck by a truck of the defendants at Woodward avenue and Martin street. The petitioner claims that the truck failed to stop on Martin at Woodward avenue for the Red Cross chapter, and crashed into his car, which was traveling along Woodward avenue. The plaintiff alleges that his injuries included concussion of the brain. The suit was filed by the law firm of Sims and Berman.

RAIL CONDITIONS IN SOUTH GEORGIA NEAR NORMALCY

Traffic conditions in the flooded areas of southern Georgia have been improved within the last 24 hours almost to the point of normalcy, an official of the Southern railway declared late Thursday afternoon, after all passenger trains from Macon to Atlanta had run practically on schedule during the day. Slightly hampered service still is being experienced, however, on the Macon to Brunswick and Macon to Cochran lines, it was said, because of the swollen Ocmulgee.

LOCAL LEGION POST TO ENTERTAIN VETS AT BASE HOSPITAL

The Atlanta post, No. 1, of the American Legion, will hold its monthly meeting tonight at Hospital No. 48, where members of the legion will entertain war veterans undergoing treatment at the hospital.

Davenport, singing by the Electrical Workers' quartet, dancing by the "Hello Girls" and music by the Southern Bell Telephone Company orchestra.

Members of the legion will be entertained at their weekly luncheon today at noon at the Henry Grady hotel by a series of specialty dances by Mrs. Louise Didschneider, Peggy Didschneider and Betty Jane Hancock. Mrs. Florence Hancock will provide the piano accompaniment.

Broom Corn A-Plenty Wanted by Cuban Firm From Georgia Farmers

Here's an opportunity for the imperial government of Georgia to enter upon friendly trade relations with the republic of Cuba. A business firm of the rich island neighbor to the south has sent a request to Atlanta seeking a person or firm handling broom corn. The firm wants to buy 40,000 pounds of this unusual commodity, according to the query made to the Atlanta district office of the department of commerce.

Any person in Georgia who has this amount of broom corn stuck around on the place or knows of a person who can fill the order is asked to communicate at once with the district office at room 538 at the Atlanta postoffice.

THE GUMPS—NEPTUNE'S DAUGHTER

THE MEDBURY
FORT MURDER

By GEORGE LIMNELLIUS

SYNOPSIS.
Major Hugh Preece, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, has just been transferred from Bath to Fort Medbury, which is not far from London. He is about to leave his office for the day to take his wife and children out riding when Lieutenant Lapan is announced and he has to stay to examine him. The lieutenant is suffering from a mild nasal disorder and the major prescribes for him. After the young officer leaves, Major Preece remembers that he has seen him before and recalls the occasion. The visit puts the major in a reminiscent mood. He recalls his first love affair with Prunella Lake, an actress on the London stage, then his being sent to West Africa and his unhappiness at having to part with Prunella.

INSTALLMENT V.
AN AFRICAN INTERLUDE.

The men's lines were on that side of the wide parade ground further from the esplanade; the officers' huts were on the opposite side of the parade ground.

A few steps from the door of the hut which Preece occupied, a bare line of red faced cliffs to the brown waters of the Mongola river, some 800 feet below. Preece remembered vividly his first ordinary over the valley of the Mongola. From the headquarters station at Sene he had traveled by launch up the Sene river to Port Hammo.

They had started just as dawn was breaking and the mist hung thick on the water. All day long the panting launch, piloted by a huge Creole, had pushed a sinuous path along the narrowing river. Only they had stuck for half an hour on a mudbank. It was then, while they were waiting for the tide to float them off again and the native passengers in the stern, overcome by the midday heat, slept, that Preece had first experienced the mysterious hush of the West African bush. It is a quiet so profound that the ear strains anxiously for any noise, however slight, to shatter that pool of glassy silence; and the mind moves uneasily, vaguely conscious of vibrations too high or too low for the human ear.

From Port Hammo, a four days' march brought him to Sene. Sene is within the twelve fly belt; no ponies can live there.

The route from Port Hammo was through thick bush. After a few miles it became extraordinarily monotonous. On either side of the narrow bush path elephant grass grew to the height of eight or ten feet. From half-past ten in the morning till three in the afternoon it was impossible to march. The narrow path between the high grass and shrub formed a veritable sun trap.

The heat during the two hours before and after midday was terrific. Preece and his string of carriers would halt in a village, or in a clearing, where some tall tree lent a grateful shade. After a light lunch Preece would doze in a long chair while the carriers and the native escort chattered uneasily. No activities, save those of the gaily painted butterflies, disturbed the tranquillity of those slow hours.

With the approach of afternoon, Preece had marched most of the way instead of using his hammock, so that by the fourth day he was done up; felt that he had a touch of the sun and was forced to cover the whole of the last 15 miles in a hammock.

Tumbling out at last cramped and weary from the incessant jolt and sway of the hammock, he had been confronted with the magnificent sweep of the Mongola valley. For magnificent it was, "unfolding beneath the moon's amber rays" or silver and black under the pale moon. Often, when he was sleeping badly, he would watch a tornado passing across the great plain. The panorama would blink, shiver, grow dazzling white, and vanish utterly.

As he stood at the door of his hut a tiny little cool breeze stirred the hair, clammy with sweat, on his brow. Preece shivered and turned to select a book from a shelf nailed upon the wall of the inside of the hut. He had forgotten to bring his lamp with him. He drew hard upon his cigar, and the tiny red glow swelled till a faint lurid incandescence leaped from his mouth, nose and chin. He thrust his face, with the cigarette between his lips, toward the spot where the bookshelf should have been. He found himself looking straight into a pair of fierce, staring eyes. He recoiled sharply and his heart missed a beat. Then he laughed, a high thin cackle. The sound of his own laughter, with its hysterical note, startled him.

"By God!" he murmured aloud. "I'm in a rotten state. Must be going off it! Have I a temperature?"

University School Wins First Game in State Cage Tourney

Atlanta Team And Braselton Paired Today

Athens and Vienna Both Come Through First Games in Easy Style.

BY BOB SHERROD.

Athens, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—The high school basketball teams of U. S. R. of Atlanta, LaGrange, Vienna and Athens won their first round games in the state tournament this afternoon and tonight.

U. S. R. defeated Pavo, 44 to 22; LaGrange beat Metter, 27 to 22; Vienna conquered Stapleton, 21 to 7, and Athens stepped on Scriven, 34 to 17. The quarter finals, scheduled for Friday, will see Zebulon playing the champion Vienna five, LaGrange vs. Rome, U. S. R. vs. Braselton and Athens vs. Perry. The semifinals will be played Saturday afternoon, while the winner will be determined that evening.

In the first game, Metter started off strong and kept a safe lead throughout the first half over LaGrange, holding a 16 to 7 advantage at the half. But in the second half, especially in the last quarter, the LaGrange five led by Marcus, began scoring at a fast and furious pace and finally won.

U. S. R., fifth district champions, won over Pavo handily, scoring 44 points to 22 for the second district quint. Green, at center, and Nix, a forward, were too much for the Pavo leads to handle, scoring 30 points between them. U. S. R. beat, 22 to 8, at the halfway mark.

Vienna loomed through the first night's game and came out with an easy 21 to 7 victory over Stapleton. Although the Viennese had no formidable opposition this evening, the loss of two valuable players seems to have taken a heavy toll on the five that went to the semifinals in the national tournament last winter. Vienna led throughout, while the score at the half was only 10 to 4.

Athens High, runner-up in last year's state tourney, defeated a game little Scriven team, 34 to 17, in the last game. Once in a while the losing five would threaten and pull up to within five or six points of the Athens quint, only to fall back again. The halfway score was 16 to 7.

BY DICK HAWKINS

A Ray of Hope.

IT IS rumored that Pa Stribling will transfer a part of W. L.'s fighting contract to Jimmy Johnston for a time. Allow us to hope that the report is true. Pa Stribling is a fine gentleman and would carry many a man to the championship but not his eldest son. He knows the fight game as few do but a father has no more business in his son's corner than he would have sitting on the bench of justice with his son in the toils.

Any man who is half civilized must hesitate to send his son to the slaughter when he knows the slaughter is waiting. Pa Stribling comes within this category with some to spare and can not be blamed for sympathizing with his offspring when reverses come. What W. L. needs is less sympathy and more abuse. He'll never get it from Pa and Ma and the rest of the family.

PRIZE fighting is a very sour science but as long as the game lasts it must be played according to certain well-established rules. First among those rules is the one that says self-preservation must be subordinated to offensive fighting at certain times. W. L. Stribling does not lack what we choose to call "guts" for want of a more expressive word. He will stand and take the worst and smile but he is trained and raised in an atmosphere of caution. His caution in the ring is not a matter of conscious thought, it is just second nature. The only way he will be cured of this caution is through the agency of some manager who will goad him or shame him into fighting as he is capable of doing.

W. L. Stribling—get this now—can lick any of them at any time with any kind of gloves or no gloves at all if he will fight as he is capable of fighting. He has the strength, he has the skill, he has everything but that thing so indescribable but which might be called "spirit." In his fight with Jack Sharkey he suffered from an injury but if he had been without the injury would he have FOUGHT? No. He would have outboxed Sharkey and won a decision probably but he will never fight as long as he lives in that air of caution. Whether Johnston is the man to do the job or whether the job can ever be done at this age is yet to be proven but the change would be a kind experiment for W. L. and might bring the boy into his own.

A Good Show.

WONDER if the basketball fans of Atlanta really know what is going on at the Y. M. C. A. this week. We didn't know until we saw a couple of games played by Atlanta's amateur teams in their city championship tournament. It's easy to tilt one's nose in the direction of rain and give the amateurs the loud raspberry but as a matter of cold fact one is privileged to see some really great basketball played by these representatives of churches, commercial houses and such.

Teams representing houses of learning are usually backed by a group of pop-eyed student fans but these amateurs have some that are even "pop-eyed." The rooting is as ferocious as the basketball and the whole show is entirely interesting.

Romano Beats Ladue, Harper Winner Here

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Earl McGrory, a personable sort of young fellow just come from Memphis, made his first step Thursday night towards bringing wrestling back into the public fancy with a good show at the city auditorium.

There were very few people present to witness the ex-Memphian's attempt to bring the sport out of the mud and mire in which it has found itself lately but the man's house was a fall after 42 minutes of good, fast wrestling. Harper secured a body scissors around Romano's chest and held it until the Spanish boy gave up. They wrestled the remaining minutes of the hour, but both seemed slightly weary and there were no more falls.

Mike Romano, something of a favorite, ran into a heavy youngster who wanted to be tough but discovered that his Italian boy friend could be just a bit tougher. The pugnarious youngster, Jean Ladue, his name is, was manled and slung about the ring rather roughly after he turned loose several jolting sort of punches and at one time he even resorted to the tactics employed by Champion Gus Sonnenberg and dove head-first at Romano but missed.

The main event, scheduled to go two hours, lasted only a half an hour, it taking Romano just that long to get his two falls. The first one came in 19 minutes with the Italian using a series of headpins to make Ladue groggy and then pinning him to the mat. Following the intermission, they came back and Romano took his second fall in the same manner in nine minutes.

What crowd there was Thursday night seemed rather pleased with the matches and tithy will probably be more on the occasion of Mr. McGrory's next affair, which will be forthcoming shortly.

College Park And Calvary Play Tonight

Western Heights Meets Black And Gold in Other Semi-Final of City Tourney.

Play began Thursday night at the local Y. M. C. A. court in Atlanta's first city basketball tournament with favored teams coming through right side up and a couple of close games that gave the spectators thrills aplenty.

The results: College Park 26; Power Co. 24. Calvary 19; Alpha Epsilon 11. Western Heights Baptist 33; Triple E 19. Black & Gold 29; Fullman 15. Tonight, in the semifinals, Western Heights Baptist, which ran away with the Triple E class, will play the Black & Gold outfit in one game while the other two teams will meet College Park. Both of the games hold promise of being exciting ones, and a great battle is expected for the right to enter the finals.

Hawley Quits Post At Dartmouth

HANOVER, N. H., March 7.—(AP)—Announcement that Jesse B. Hawley had quit as head coach of the Dartmouth football team and that Jackson L. Cannell, backfield coach, had been appointed his successor, was made here today by Harry R. Hennings, superintendent of athletics. Hawley's radio business in Chicago, it was said, had become too pressing to permit him to devote sufficient time to Dartmouth. He became head football coach six years ago and his reign, until last season, was the most successful one in Dartmouth's football history. In 1925, Hawley attained his greatest success, developing an undefeated team that conquered Harvard, Cornell, Brown and Chicago and tied Yale.

A. A. U. Will Keep Ban on Barbuti

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP)—After a four hours' discussion of the case, the registration committee of the Metropolitan association, Amateur Athletic union, voted tonight to keep the suspension of Ray Barbuti, Olympic 400-meter champion.

Backswing Is Not Matter of Comfort

EYES ON BALL. YOU MUST GET FROM A TO B BY TURN OF YOUR SHOULDERS.

BY SOL METZGER.

This getting set for a long drive in golf is not a matter of comfort, according to Joyce Wethered, former British women's champion. Everything is easy and lovely up to the point where you get the club to the "A" position shown in the sketch. Thereon matters are not so comfortable. To get the club set for the full swing, after reaching the point "A," you keep your eyes on the ball and lift the club up until its toe is pointed to the ground, the position shown at "B" in the sketch.

This lift is not much without body sway and is the cause of the shoulder turning. There is little wrist turn in this part of the swing, according to Miss Wethered.

Par golfers make their approaches stick. Metzger's printed and illustrated leaflet, "The Art of Pitching," explains in detail how to do this. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, in care of this paper, and ask for it.

Rooster Gets Kayo Over Eagle

SARASOTA, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Page Jack Dempsey, the fight promoter and tell him this one: Just before dusk last night, a bald eagle hovered over the barnyard of a Sarasota dairyman. Selecting a nice fat hen for its supper, the king of the air swooped low, snatched the bird and disappeared on the back of a husky six-month-old Plymouth rock rooster.

The battle raged fast and furiously with plenty of feathers flying and no clinching. To the amazement of the dairyman, when the final song figuratively had been sounded, the eagle not only had taken the count but was dead. The valiant champion is badly crippled and may not survive the terrific punishment from the eagle's beak and talons. The eagle measured six feet, one inch from wing tip to wing tip.

Jacket Court Drills Reopen In Short Time

The charges of Roy Mundorff, Georgia Tech basketball mentor, will have but a short layoff this year, as Mundorff has already announced that his regular spring practice in the cage will start on March 18, with the boys working three nights of the week.

Mundorff has thrice sent his team into the regular season, and three times the Jackets have fallen off in the strain of the long grind to fall by the wayside in early rounds. Mundorff hopes to form a squad which will live up to pre-tourney expectations in the next running of the meeting, which is expected to be just about as good as the sport of his charges in this past season. Mundorff loses but one man, Julian Wilson, from the squad which won the White and Gold this year, and has some capable men coming up to the varsity from the freshman quint. Notable among this crew are: James Perkins, English and Soccer, all of whom played good ball this year and who should show well under varsity colors.

BIG TEN MARKS DUE TO TOPPLE AT MEET TODAY

CHICAGO, March 7.—(AP)—Dual meets and exhibition performances indicate that at least five conference records will be smashed when Big Ten track stars clash in their annual Big Ten meet at the University of Illinois today and Saturday.

George Simpson, of Ohio State, is expected to crack his own mark of 1:08.30 in the 400-yard dash, while four are granted a big chance of smashing the 70-yard high hurdles record of 1:08.00. They are Bob McKeown, of Illinois; Joe and George Saling, of Iowa, and Dick Rockaway, of Ohio State.

Two great half-milers, Captain White, of Illinois, and Orval Martin, of Purdue, have bettered the mark of 1:56.4-10 this winter. Martin, who holds the mark, clipped two seconds from it recently.

The one and two-mile run marks seem certain to be broken by Illinois runners. Fred Stine has bettered the conference record for the one-mile event several times this season, and has Dave Abbott in the two-mile event.

The 26-pound shot put mark of 48 feet 7.1-2 inches which was established by Arlie Muecks, of Wisconsin, 13 years ago, and the running high jump record of six feet, five inches, established by Chuck McGinnis, of Wisconsin, in 1927, seem certain to stand.

Most of the teams left for Iowa City tonight.

BASKETBALL

CITY LEAGUE
A. A. C. Reds defeated the Gulf Refining Co. 20 to 16, Thursday night at the City Y. M. C. A. court. The Reds had beaten the other two teams during the regular season, and the two were in a tie for the top of the league. Reds won the first two games this season and Gulf won the last two. The game was really a close one, but the Reds were really favored by the Gulf before the game started because they had made the best record in the past month, but two. Reds won the game by a score of 20 to 16. The margin accumulated in the last half was enough to carry them through.

Kennel Club Annual Show Starts Today

Canines From 24 States Here for Exhibition; Famous Winners Present.

Dogs from 24 states will be on exhibition at the Atlanta Kennel Club's bench show that opens this morning at 10 o'clock in the auditorium annex. About 300 dogs have been entered and more than half that number arrived yesterday, after having been shown at Chattanooga Tuesday and Wednesday.

Among the more prominent of the out-of-town dogs are the shepherds, beagles, pointers and fox hounds entered in the name of the Girland Kennels of Madison, N. J. The owner of these dogs is Mrs. Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge, who, as her name implies, is of the Rockefeller family not unknown to those of you who buy gasoline. Her dogs are in charge of McClure Halley, one of the outstanding dog men of the country. R. L. Davis, of the famous Gamble-Kennels of Madison, War Bride, is here with a string of 25 dogs. Cy Beldow, probably the dean of the southern handlers, is here from Birmingham with a bunch of dogs whose owners live from Texas to Wisconsin. Miss Claudia Phelps is here from Aiken, S. C., with a number of dogs, among which is Roscoe Champion, a Scottish terrier, that is picked by many to be the winner of the terrier group and to be a strong contender for best dog in the show.

Among the local dogs expected to give the imported crabs a run for the blue ribbon is L. F. Scheiver's wire-haired fox terrier, Idlewood Gamble. This dog was recently judged best of all breeds at the Orlando, Fla., show and must be considered whenever probable winners are being picked. Hal Lindsay has a couple of airdales that are of championship caliber and E. G. Peddicord has a smooth fox terrier that has won five championship points in three consecutive shows. Mrs. Paul Hamer's Peke, Baby Swah of Newbold, has yet to be beaten by any female of her breed in the south, but will run into serious competition when she goes up against the Pekes brought here by Mrs. Helen Shaftel, of Chicago.

Mrs. Shaftel's Peke, Fu Chi Pilot, was judged best of all breeds at the Southeastern Fair last fall, and she has three new ones with her that have been consistent winners throughout the east and middle west.

Judging will begin promptly at 1 o'clock. Chihuahuas, Polesies, Pomeranians, Toy Black and Tan Terriers will be judged in order. Following them will come Shepherds, Foxes, Wire-haired Foxes, and Terriers, one of the most popular of the breeds, will be judged between 7 and 9, after which will come Doberman Pinschers, German Shepherds, and Great Danes. On Saturday morning Beagles, Fox Hounds, Greyhounds, Pointers, Setters, Cocker Spaniels, Whippets and Russian Blues will be judged in the afternoon, and Saturday evening the variety groups and best dog in show will be picked.

Tourney Receipts Fall Short

Despite the fact that the 1929 southern conference basketball tournament just completed at the city auditorium was one of the most closely contested and featured by many big upsets, figures revealed Thursday by the tournament committee show that receipts were way below those of last year. This year's receipts failed by a few hundred dollars of paying expenses.

Total receipts for the 1929 tourney were $8,150.50, while the "gate" for last year's meet passed the $9,000 mark. The shortage in the 1929 tourney figures was attributed to Georgia Tech's failure to survive the opening and the University of Georgia's defeat in the semi-final games. The attendance for the title game Tuesday night was the smallest ever to attend a final game.

Frank Hunter, Hennessey Battle Today

Palm Beach, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N. Y., and No. 2 player on the national tennis ranking list, will meet Johnny Hennessey, Indianapolis, No. 10, in the singles finals of the Florida championships here tomorrow.

Hunter eliminated William Allison, Austin, Texas, and No. 5 on the list, in one semi-final match today, while Hennessey turned back John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., and No. 6.

Hunter's victory was gained in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3, and 6-4, but Hennessey was forced to four sets before he could take the measure of the youthful Van Ryn, who has been playing great tennis this season. The scores were 7-5, 6-1, 2-6 and 6-4.

Semi-finals in the doubles were also concluded today. Hunter and Hennessey had little trouble emerging victorious in their three-set affair against Van Ryn and Forest Hills, L. I., 4-3, 6-2 and 6-3.

Van Ryn and Allison, however, met a pair of Tartars in John S. Millen, Philadelphia, and Lord Cholmondeley, London, in the other bracket of the doubles and their affair was the most thrilling of the day. Van Ryn and Allison won in straight sets but long drawn out battle that provided some fireworks for the gallery of society folk who had gathered for the matches. The scores were 9-7, 10-8 and 6-3.

Millen's serve had both Allison and Van Ryn bothered and time after time the youthful Princeton star caught the two ranking players flat-footed with beautiful ace shots that tore away the back line of the service court.

Lord Cholmondeley was steady enough to offset his partner's brilliance and Allison and Van Ryn had to call forth their best tennis to turn in the victory.

The finals in the singles are scheduled Friday afternoon, with the doubles finals to be played Saturday afternoon. Mixed doubles will be continued today and the finals are expected Sunday afternoon.

Miss Collett In Semi-Final Match Today

Helen Hicks Will Be Opponent of Sensational Star in Florida Meet.

St. Augustine, March 7.—(AP)—Four women, all of national championship caliber and one the national women's titleholder, will clash on the fairways and greens here tomorrow in the semifinals of the Florida east coast golf championships.

As a result of victories earned today over formidable opponents, the four stars are Misses Glenna Collett, the national champion; Bernice Wall, Wisconsin state titleholder; Helen Hicks, who has won three titles this winter, and Virginia Van Wie, long a foremost contender for Miss Collett's throne.

Miss Collett defeated Mrs. Sallie Sterrett, Kansas City, handily 4 and 2, while Miss Wall had a harder match to eliminate Mrs. Stuart Hensley, Detroit, in a game that was won and lost no less than seven times before the Wisconsin girl was able to get down in a four on the 18th for a one-up decision.

The hardest match of the day was that of Miss Hicks against Miss Virginia Van Wie, who has been playing great tennis this season. She turned out at noon today to play with shaking knees and a wobbling stride. Her illness took its toll on the greens where weakness put her far off her usually brilliant game. Miss Virginia Van Wie went into the semifinal bracket by defeating Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago, 3 and 2.

Tomorrow Miss Wall meets Miss Van Wie and Miss Hicks will clash with the redoubtable Miss Collett, who incidentally is defending her Florida east coast title.

Yates and Willoughby Play in Finals Today

Palm Beach, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Arthur Yates, Rochester, N. Y., and Hugh Willoughby, Jr., of Philadelphia, will meet tomorrow in the finals of the annual Palm Beach golf championships.

Yates advanced today by defeating J. Forsman, New York, 4 and 3, while Willoughby conquered W. B. Langford, Chicago, by the same score.

Griffith Signs Contract For Fight With Lomski

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Jerry "Tuffy" Griffith, Sioux City, Ia., light heavyweight, signed today for a return engagement with Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen, Wash., "assassin," who was awarded a disputed decision over him in their battle at Detroit three weeks ago. They will fight two rounds as an added attraction to the Tommy Loughran-Mickey Walker match for the world's light heavyweight championship here March 28.

Georgia Highway and Rail Traffic to Florida Is Open Despite Flooded Lowlands

Little Trouble Encountered in Travel, Tourists and State Road Survey Reports After Survey.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Highways and railroads to Florida were opened today despite the fact that the second flood crest within a week was still overflowing lowlands and one town along the courses of four major streams in the state.

The state highway department, through Chairman John H. Holder, today announced that Route No. 3, Florida, via Griffin, Zebulon, Thomson, Butler and Ellaville, was open all the way. Route No. 11, via Griffin, Forsyth and Macon, was open all the way except for a 1.5-mile detour at Edgewood creek, between Macon and Perry. Route No. 7 to Florida via Griffin, Barnesville and Perry, was open all the way.

With announcement by Southern railroad officials that one of their main lines to Florida was opened to traffic, all lines to the Peach state were resuming normal service today. The Southern tracks were clear above Macon again today, and the main line via Valdosta to Jacksonville, was also opened. The main line via Jessup was still closed, due to the flooded Ocmulgee and Oconee rivers.

Newton, Ga., March 7.—(AP)—The state of the river on the Flint river, was still a "deserted village" today, with water standing almost everywhere in the town at least three feet deep and at a stand. The next crest was expected to take the water probably a foot higher. Albany reported that the Flint had dropped slightly there, but with the crest just above the city, expected a flood crest of 33 feet by Saturday morning. Further damage to factories and lowland houses on the outskirts of the city was expected.

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, today said best estimates indicated that crop damage in south Georgia lowlands would run around 10 per cent because of the flood. Cotton areas, he indicated, probably will be reached too late for another planting.

C. E. von Heriman, of the Atlanta weather bureau, said the flood crest on the Chattahoochee is expected to reach another crest reading of 57.5 feet. Recession further up the river was rapid. The Flint and Chattahoochee crests are expected to reach confluence, where the Apalachicola is formed, by Sunday or Monday.

Al danger on those streams will be passed by that time, the meteorologist said. Flood crest had passed Macon on the Ocmulgee and Milledgeville on the Oconee, and was spreading out over lowlands as those two streams approached confluence, where the Altamaha is formed, and runs into the Atlantic. Flood conditions were expected to remain there well into next week, although they were not necessarily expected to be acute, due to the great spread and slow drainage of the flood water.

Railroad crews today passed in behind the flood with the highway construction workers and repaired breaks as soon as possible under a welcome spring sun. The forecast was for continued fair weather, but slightly cooler temperatures tonight and tomorrow.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER SPREADS OVER LOWLANDS.

Memphis, Tenn., March 7.—(AP)—The Mississippi river today had spread over low and unprotected lands from Cairo south today to Memphis and another rise in the Ohio and Tennessee rivers will prolong the highway situation for several days.

W. E. Barron, meteorologist at Cairo, announced today a crest of a little under 49 feet there by Monday night or Tuesday. He said the new rise coming down the river would not add to the present stages, but would

SLIGHT DAMAGE DONE AT CORDELE.

Cordele, March 7.—The high flood waters of the Flint river have done slight damage about the construction work at the site of the million-dollar hydro-electric power plant under course of erection for the people of Crisp county west of Cordele. One flood crest has passed and the builders are prepared for another.

Fortunately the construction had barely gotten under such way as to permit the floods to do much damage. Foundation concrete and steel work will be taken up immediately after the floods have receded sufficiently. That already done is safe, and much of the important work will be done in the winter spring and summer when the waters are very low.

Much of the costly machinery is being unloaded at the site of the dam, ready to be placed when work is resumed. The power plant will not be ready for operation before late fall.

SAYS FORESTS WOULD PREVENT FLOODS.

Flood conditions in Georgia could have been largely prevented had forest fires been kept down and abandoned agricultural lands allowed to regrow themselves, State Forester B. M. Luburrow said here today.

Unburned forest lands have been shown to absorb and hold two to three times as much rainfall as bare soil, said, while the roots of trees greatly decrease the surface run-off water after heavy rains.

Mr. Luburrow pointed out that Georgia's rivers without exception arise within the state, thus making the problem of flood control.

OCMULGE RECEDING SLOWLY AT MACON.

Macon, Ga., March 7.—(AP)—The slowness with which the Ocmulgee river was falling here, after having reached a third crest of 24.00 feet, is causing some concern for points south of Macon, especially along the line of the Southern railway from Macon to Jessup, which follows the stream much of the way.

The Southern today had been unable to open that division because of the flood crest from Cairo, which reached a third crest of 24.00 feet. When that water moves further down stream it is feared that the usual flood conditions will develop at other points along that line, and railroad officials indicated that it is uncertain when that division will resume traffic.

Southern railway business was moving over its Georgia, Southern & Florida division, however, without interruption.

Repairs have not been completed to the bridge at the Macon, Dublin & Savannah railway, which gave way Wednesday and allowed a locomotive to drop into the stream.

STRUCK BY AUTO, UNIDENTIFIED MAN IS DYING AT GRADY.

A middle-aged, unidentified white man was near death at Grady hospital shortly after midnight Thursday after having been struck down on the highway near Grady, Ga., by an automobile driven by a man named by the police as "P. S. Pissick," of 806 Washington street.

The injured man was taken immediately to the hospital, but failed to regain consciousness and was believed to be dying early this morning. Pissick was arrested by Patrolmen Prigle and Lee on a reckless driving charge and was held in default of $1,000 bond pending the outcome of his alleged victim's injuries. The injured man seemed to be about 40 years of age, was averagely well dressed but bore no marks of identification.

RALLY FOR INMAN 100 of Candidate's Friends Urge His Election.

A meeting in the interest of the candidacy of Edward H. Inman for the position on the Fulton county commission left vacant by the death of Captain George M. Hope, was held Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Grady Andrews, of 1408 Lucile avenue.

Nearly 100 of Mr. Inman's friends were present at the rally and a number of short talks were made by seventh ward leaders.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them right now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Your Home and You

BY BETSY CALLISTER.

In the paintings of Vermeer and the other old masters of the Dutch school, showing interiors of old-time Dutch houses, you may perhaps have noticed baskets hanging on the wall. Sometimes a rough basket—shaped something like a market basket—hanging on a kitchen wall, holding various homely vegetables, and sometimes you may see peeping over the top of one of these wall baskets bits of clothing or unclean yards.

The effect is pleasing and the idea certainly is a good one for the present-day small house or apartment where shelf room is at a premium. Baskets and boxes placed on the floor are always a nuisance, having to be moved when the floor is swept or dusted and generally getting in the way.

In even the small kitchen there is usually room over a table or beside a window for a hanging basket and there are attractive, softly woven baskets that might add a decorative touch to the wall of the study or living room and prove most useful for holding papers, writing materials, sewing or other belongings for which room cannot be found in drawers or on shelves.

To the women interested in interior decoration household furnishings as well as the decorative value of the old-time yards in having it fascinating source of inspiration. Many people go through galleries of paintings never noticing these details, while others note the drapery of the window curtains, the arrangement of ornaments on mantel shelves, the upholstery of the chairs and the wall treatment.

And if you really want to keep the "periods" of your rooms pure the best way to do it is to study the paintings of the periods in which you are interested, in this way you will not only be able to get the style of furniture characteristic of the period but will have the best sort of source in choosing the colors and the very best for window drapery, walls and other details.

This week's household help gives suggestions for eight different party menus, with the precise amounts for each, for a given number of guests. If you are planning any afternoon or evening entertaining and want to offer your guests refreshments that they will especially enjoy, I am sure you will find this little circular helpful. On receipt of your stamped, self-addressed envelope I will gladly send it to you without charge.

HOW TO KEEP HAIR ALWAYS AT BEST.

Here is something worth knowing for the girl who doesn't have her hair permanently waved but clings to the old-time style of having it marcelled every shampoo.

Have your hair washed and waved in the usual manner, and then, four or five days after the treatment, go back to the hairdressers and have the wave reset. Most hairdressers will not charge for a full wave at the time of this resetting, but they will give you the first treatment—as it does not take long. The advantage of the resetting is that after this is done the hair will then stay in wave for two to three weeks—or until you need to have another shampoo, even though under ordinary circumstances the single wave would have been well kept out at the end of a week's time. Going over the lines of the original wave before they have disappeared seems to give them unusual durability.

Many women like to have their hair shampooed often, but every four weeks and perhaps that does seem too long an interval, but it is possible to keep the hair in good condition for that length of time. Be sure always to wear a protecting cap of some sort if you have any dusting or other duty household to do.

Here is another way to keep the hair clean that I might hesitate to mention only that I think many girls overlook the matter. The lining of the hat should be really clean. Fresh linings may be bought for a trifle. I have seen them for as little as 10 cents. After a hat has been worn several weeks and shows signs of being soiled, but when the time comes for him to get up from bed so that the couch might be rearranged. His temperature was 100.2 and his pulse 90.

Another way to keep the hair clean between shampoos is by means of dry shampoos. You may buy this specially-prepared powder for this purpose or use powdered orris root. Brush it well into the hair and then spread out a sheet or paper and brush the powder out of the hair again. This treatment will not impair the wave. Along the forehead, behind the ears and at the nape of the neck the scalp may be washed with a little absorbent cotton and rub dry and this will not harm the wave yet will help to keep the scalp perfectly clean.

Acne—that is the skin disorder known as pimples—is now considered a definite malady with certain definite causes. Not every case of acne yields to precisely the same longer look upon it as a trouble which must be endured until it is outgrown. This week's beauty help gives you plans concerning the treatments that have been found most satisfactory, and if you would like a copy of this I will gladly send it to you, without charge, on receipt of your stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Mirror of the Mode

BY MARY MARSHALL.

Even the children's clothes tendencies for spring and summer are fairly well indicated by fashions followed at Palm Beach and other winter resorts. One winter resort of note but has its special schools and classes for visiting children.

A type of lightweight wrap that has met with favor with the little girls at southern resorts this season is made of navy blue flannel in regulation yachting style with brass buttons at the front and on the sleeves.

Gingham frocks assume new importance in the wardrobes of little girls now that mamma's frocks are made of gingham, too. And many of the best looking of these little girl frocks are made of checked or plaid material with plain lined linen or chambray. The same trim, flat finish is used in many of the little frocks with stitched bands of the plain material on cuffs and at the neckline while the flannels of skirts is often handled by means of wide waistbands which are always easier to replace in ironing in striped or checked materials than when the material is plain or figured. One very attractive little girl ensemble made for southern wear was of yellow and white checked gingham with a black linen short jacket, lined with the checked gingham.

A little matching chiffon or georgette added to the material contained in a last season's afternoon or evening gown are all that you will need to bring it up to date.

RAGSDALE TELLS REASON FOR VETO OF OFF-SET PAPER

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Thursday issued a statement explaining that his veto of the off-set where the Central avenue approach to the new viaduct joins Ivy street at Decatur was not through any desire on his part but under a ruling of City Attorney James L. Mayson.

Mr. Mayson ruled that viaduct funds could not be diverted for such use because the project is not an integral part of the viaduct itself, and Mr. Ragsdale was compelled under the law to veto the paper.

"I feel that some means to eliminate the off-set should be taken by all means," Mr. Ragsdale said, "but under Mr. Mayson's ruling I was forced to disapprove the paper. I hope that some other fund will be found which can be used for that purpose. I am heartily in sympathy with the plan."

FOCH UNDAUNTED IN SPIRIT; WEIGHT GREATLY REDUCED

Paris, March 7.—(AP)—Marshal Foch, after eight weeks of illness, continues undaunted in spirit but his body is weakened to such an extent that he is said to be weighing now less than 100 pounds.

The degree of emaciation which the sturdy, upstanding generalissimo of allied forces in the world war has reached was illustrated when the time came for him to get up from bed so that the couch might be rearranged. His temperature was 100.2 and his pulse 90.

Segovia, Master of Guitar, Superb in Performance Here

When any man takes an instrument such as the guitar and by the sheer technique and musical genius inherent in his soul, plays it in such manner as to raise it from the commonplace usages with which we inevitably associate it to the heights of a superb musical instrument, such a man presents a problem for the composer almost beyond the power of words to express.

For he is doing something entirely new in music and there is only one possible way to even approximate an appreciation of his accomplishment. This is to hear and to feel the magic of his fingers across the strings of his chosen instrument. To try and explain that feeling for people who have never heard the music of Andres Segovia, in cold words, is a task for only the greatest writers of all time. And we haven't any such available.

Segovia was presented last night at the auditorium of the Woman's club, as the final attraction of the 1928-29 season by the Atlanta Music club. Had they searched the world for months they could not have found an attraction better suited for a closing program. For it is certain that every member of the large audience present last night will talk about Segovia and his art for many months to come.

Segovia takes the guitar and plays on it music of any type and any caliber. He plucks from the strings of his instrument melody and harmony that interpret the greatest work of the greatest masters fully, exquisitely and powerfully.

His program last night contained intricate compositions by Handel, Bach, Haydn, etc., and with them he drew from the soul of the guitar music that stands on a parity with the most beautiful music of the violin. It sounds unbelievable, but had you heard him you would concur.

Classic numbers and lighter dances favorites proved equally suitable for the guitar—when played by Segovia. But there is only one Segovia and it is doubtful whether the world will produce another guitarist of his caliber for generations. He is that much of a novelty.

ATLANTAN URGES FREQUENT ACCESS TO FEDERAL COURT

Montgomery, Ala., March 7.—(AP)—Frequent access to federal courts as a means of avoiding delays and financial loss to shippers of interstate commerce was suggested to the Southern Traffic league at its quarterly meeting here today by Charles E. Cotterill, of Atlanta, in his report as general counsel for the league.

Approximately 70 delegates representing shipping interests in a majority of the southern states, attended the session.

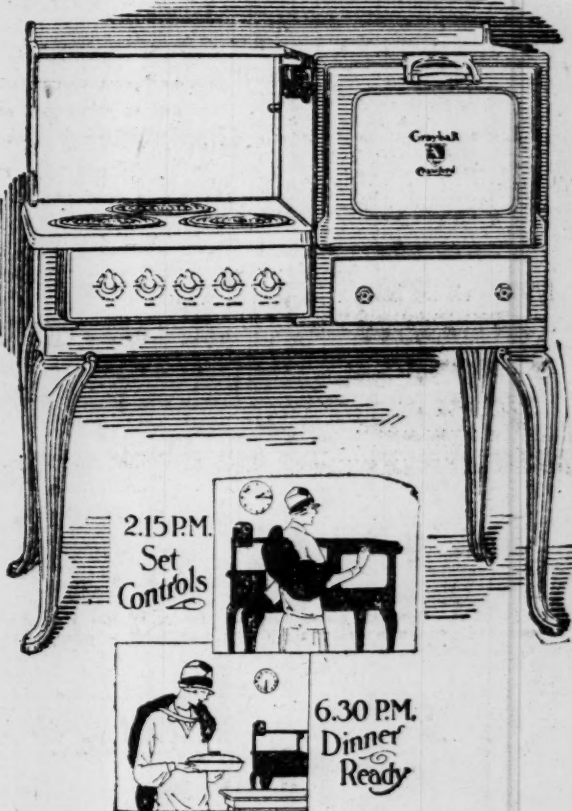

In his report Cotterill intimated that specific action on the cases, particularly in references to rates, might be obtained through the federal courts than at present exists through the change of the interstate commerce commission.

Criticism of what was termed "arbitrary conduct" on the part of the southern railroads and inspection bureau, an institution set up by southern railroads, also developed at the conference. However, the work of the bureau was supported staunchly by a number of the delegates.

At last the day has arrived for the Junior League's presentation of "Wizard of Oz" with the curtain rising at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for the first matinee and again at 8:30 o'clock this evening, both performances being given at the Forsyth theater. You really must not miss the "Wizard of Oz," not only because it is going to be a very interesting play, but also because it is given for an extremely worthy cause. The beneficiary of this charming production will be the Junior League ward at the Eggleston Memorial hospital for children, which is just one of the many phases of the program of charities maintained by this splendid organization.

All characters in the "Wizard of Oz" will be enacted by Junior League members, these young women putting to use dramatic talents of no mean order to be found within their ranks.

The well-selected cast includes Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Jr., taking the part of Dorothy; Mrs. Perrin Nicholson as Toto the dog; Mrs. Winfrey Ramsey as the Lion; Mrs. Green Warren as the Scarecrow; Mrs. Parks Hunt taking the part of the Tin Woodman; Mrs. Rhodes Haverly as the Wicked Witch; Miss Isabelle Breitenbach as the Cowardly Lion; Miss Ellen Newell as the Wizard of Oz; Mrs. Richard Cobb as the Guardian of the Gates; Miss Florence Eckford as the Beautiful Lady; Miss Anne Lane Newell as the Witch of the North; and Mrs. Rhodes Haverly in another role as Glinda the Good. Other characters include the three Munchkins, who are Mrs. Sherwood Hurt, Miss Angel Allen and Mrs. Grosvenor Bemis. The ladies of the ensemble are Misses Virginia Courts, Billie Johnson, Clara Hanner, Mesdames Preston Arkwright, Jr., De Sales Harrison, Grady Black and W. D. Ellis, III.

Miss Dorothy Scott, of New York, professional director formerly connected with the Walter Hampden and Margaret Anglin companies, has been in charge of the play, bringing it to a finished production and giving it the advantage of her superior training.

"Wizard of Oz," the immortal story by Frank L. Bacon, will appeal to children and grown-ups alike, who will enjoy a trip to Fairyland with little Dorothy and her friends, the Scarecrow, the Tin Woodman, Toto the dog and their wonderful adventures in the Emerald City of Oz.

Mrs. Laurence Willet is general chairman of the play, with Mrs. Turner Jones as co-chairman, and Mrs. R. S. Fleet and Mrs. Edwin Peeples in charge of the cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Johnson, of the faculty of Agnes Scott college in Decatur, were chairman of the "Song Recital," the sixth program of the "Morning Musicale Series" under the general chairmanship of Miss Nana Tucker, presented by the Atlanta Music club Wednesday morning at the Atlanta Woman's club. Featured on the program were Miss Vivian Bryant, soprano; Walter Herbert, baritone; Miss Mary Buttrick, accompanist, with a splendid four-part chorus of 32 young ladies of Agnes Scott. Mr. Herbert has a voice of rare sympathetic quality which colored splendidly in a group of Schubert songs and Massenet's "Vision Fugitive," from "Herodiade." Miss Bryant in the solo part of the "Indian Street Song," from Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta," was excellently done and particularly lovely.

Style Authority Interprets Fashion Information at Tea

BY MAINER LEE TOLER.

Interpreting the fashion information assembled by Harper's Bazar to manufacturers and retailers of fashion products that they may supply the demands of the modern woman is the work of Miss Helen Cornelius, of New York, an associate editor of this fashionable magazine. En route to New York from Palm Beach, Fla., where she spent the past two months, Miss Cornelius stopped in Atlanta Thursday for a brief visit with Mrs. Margaret Todd, fashion director for Chamberlain-Johnson-DuRose company. At an informal tea given by Mrs. Todd at the Biltmore hotel Thursday afternoon Miss Cornelius proved a fascinating and valuable mouthpiece for Harper's Bazar in her interpretations of styles and fashions to a group of interested Atlanta women.

"Fashions cannot be forced on the public by stores, magazines or manufacturers," said Miss Cornelius, "for women throughout the nation are studying styles, lines, colors, etc." "Even women's clubs are taking up seriously the study of these important subjects," said this authority of fashion.

It was interesting to learn from Miss Cornelius that about forty internationally known women set the pace for styles that are created by leading Parisian couturiers. "Of course," said Miss Cornelius, "these women have great wealth and much time." "Some of them are American, others are French, Italian or English," continued Miss Cornelius, "who are social leaders during the height of the seasons at the most fashionable resorts of Europe and America."

Miss Cornelius was enthusiastic in her approval of the Palm Beach affected this winter by Palm Beach leaders, whose low cut in the back bathing suits and sleeveless sports costumes proved a magnet for the rays of a tropical sun. According to Miss Cornelius the leading colors of spring and summer will be those that harmonize or blend with milky or sun-burned shoulders, arms and complexion. "All the nasturtium shades will be worn by those who have gained a sunburned skin during the winter season," said Miss Cornelius, "but at the present moment that yellowish green shade known as chartreuse leads in the color race. However, both the daytime and evening dress must be cut so as to reveal the modish sun-burned shoulders, and the hosiery must be in a matching sunburn shade, stated Miss Cornelius.

Simplicity, femininity, perfect harmony in costume and wearing the right costume for the right occasion were features emphasized by this fashion expert. As to accessories, such as costume jewelry, bags, gloves, etc., Miss Cornelius advises the smartly dressed woman to select with care and to be sure that they mean something to the ensemble.

HOWLER THE WOLF. By Thornton W. Burgess. A reputation travels far. Be careful, therefore, what you are. Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit was not the only one interested in Mr. and Mrs. Wanderer the Evening Grosbeaks. The other feathered folk were very apt to gather around. Even Harry Jack Squirrel would sit where he could listen. So it was that when Wanderer good naturedly began to tell Peter Rabbit about Howler the Wolf, there were quite a number of listeners. They didn't appear to be listening, though, no. They pretended to be eating. But they were all near enough to hear what was being said. Peter Rabbit had said that Howler the Wanderer would tell him about Howler the Wolf.

"Howler," began Wanderer, "is big and gray." "How big?" asked Peter. "Bigger than Bowser the Hound," replied Wanderer, who had already learned Bowser's name. "What does he look like?" Peter asked eagerly. "Much like his cousin, Old Man Coyote, only ever so much bigger. You know, Old Man Coyote is really a Wolf—the Prairie Wolf," said Wanderer.

"Does he live in the Forest?" Peter asked. "That depends," replied Wanderer. "Way up North he does. But out in the Far West he lives in a very little forest. But wherever he lives, he is feared, for he is very fierce and very strong and very swift of foot and is very, very smart. Only the Bears and Flatbushs and Moose and Puma the Panther are afraid of Howler. Even Flatbushs the Moose, when he is without his great antlers and snow does, has reason to fear Howler and his family, for Howler seldom hunts alone. Usually Howler and Mrs. Howler and their grown children hunt together. I've heard about Flatbushs the Moose, but I have never seen him," said Peter. "Is he really so very big?" "Is he so very much bigger than Lightfoot the Deer?" asked Peter.

"You know how big horses are, don't you?" asked Wanderer. "Peter nodded. 'Of course,' said he. 'Everybody knows how big horses are.' "Well," replied Wanderer, "Flatbushs the Moose is as big as a good-sized horse." "And do you mean to tell me that such a big fellow as that is afraid of Howler the Wolf?" demanded Peter, looking as if he very much doubted it.

"I certainly do," replied Wanderer. "He isn't afraid of Howler, excepting when he is without his great antlers. But you know he drops his antlers just as Lightfoot the Deer drops his. Then he has only his sharp-edged hoofs with which to defend himself. If the snow is deep, he cannot use these very well. Of course, Howler and his family have to be very ugly to attack Flatbushs. But they do attack young Moose and Mrs. Flatbushs."

"And can they really kill such big folks?" Peter persisted. "Certainly," replied Wanderer. "Then Lightfoot the Deer would be afraid of Howler. He isn't much afraid of Old Man Coyote," said Peter.

"Indeed he would be," replied Wanderer. "Howler's favorite dinner is of deer meat."

"I don't see how that can be," replied Peter. "Lightfoot is so swift that he could run away."

"Not from Howler the Wolf," declared Wanderer. "I told you that Howler is very swift of foot and very cunning. When a pack of Wolves— and that means Howler and his family—start out on the trail of a Deer, that Deer is fortunate, indeed, if he escapes."

OUR CLUB By Seckatary Hawkins

ALL THE FELLOWS GOTTA WRITE TWO NAMES. ONE FOR CAPTAIN AND ONE FOR SECKATARY.

WE ARE VOTING TODAY. I GOT A BISCUIT BOX AND CUT A SLOT IN IT. THEN I MADE A SIGN AND PUT IT ON THE TABLE. BY THE WINDOW. THE WINDOW WAS OPEN, THE DOOR WAS LOCKED.

THE FELLOWS DROPPED THEIR PIECES OF PAPER IN THE BOX. WE ALL STAYED AWAY WHILE THE FELLOWS WERE VOTING. WE ALL VOTED ONE AT A TIME. THEN WE SCOUTED AROUND AWHILE.

BEAT IT FOR THE CLUBHOUSE, AND GEE WHIZ! THE BOX WASN'T THERE. DARN, IF SUCH THINGS AREN'T GETTING COMMON. I WONDERED IF ONE OF OUR FELLOWS WAS TRYING TO GET SMART.

BUT I COULDN'T BELIEVE ANY OF OUR BOYS WOULD DO THAT. THEN I HAPPENED TO THINK OF THE SKINNY GUY. I SLIPPED DOWN TO HIS SHANTY-BOAT. SURE ENOUGH THERE HE WAS, WRITING NEW VOTES!

HE PUT THEM IN THE BISCUIT BOX AND BROUGHT IT BACK. I HAD LOCKED THE WINDOW—YOU OUGHTA'VE SEEN SKINNY'S FACE—BUT HE GOT IN THROUGH THE TRAP-DOOR IN THE ROOF. Golly! how HE CAN CLIMB!

Proceeds of the show will go to the parent-teacher association.

COLD WIND AND SNOW HIT MIDWEST STATES

Balmly Weather Suddenly Changes as Blizzard Strikes.

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Destructive west winds spread snow and cold over the Midwest last night causing personal injuries, property damage and possibly loss of life.

Fire added its menace to the other elements at work. A Tonalawka, Wis., the wind whipped a fire through the business section, causing a loss of $500,000.

Six persons were injured in Chicago and three others, who set out on Lake Michigan yesterday in a small fishing boat, were believed lost in the gale.

The cold wave came just when the Midwest was enjoying its belated weather. In Chicago the season's high temperature of 58 had been recorded before the gale sent the mercury down 40 degrees in 12 hours. Similar drops were reported in many other cities.

The wind, which reached a velocity of 45 miles an hour, broke windows, trees, chimneys and signs in Milwaukee and Chicago. Northern Wisconsin and Minnesota reported a heavy snowfall that hampered travel.

Ice gorges and overflowing rivers caused much damage in Nebraska and Illinois. A dike broke on the Papago creek near Omaha, the water forming a large area to a depth of four feet and forcing several families to abandon their homes.

The Blue river was backing up behind an ice pack at Beatrice, Neb., and one suburb had already been cut off by flood waters early today. Backwater was making the city well isolated and preparations were being made to dynamite the ice.

Rockford, Ill., faced one of the worst floods in its history, with Kalamazoo creek out of its banks and overflowing an area six blocks long. One of the main highways was impassable, and the water was rising. The gorges were reported at Belvidere, Ill., and on the Rock river, near Rockford.

Two of the persons injured in the flood were in a wooded partition when it blew across a sidewalk. Two others were struck by a large sign which was torn from its hinges. One woman was struck by the limb of a tree and a man was cut by flying glass.

Two persons were injured in the fire at Tonalawka. One was the clerk in the Mitchell hotel, who warned all the guests of their danger before jumping from a window. The fire started in the hotel, which was the city's largest building and which was completely destroyed. It was valued at $150,000. Eighteen other buildings were also razed.

The wind ripped across Ohio today, reaching a velocity officially reported at 65 miles an hour. A $200,000 fire destroyed a two-story building in downtown Cleveland and which was completely destroyed an entire block before it burned itself out. Considerable damage was reported throughout the state. Wire communication was hampered.
